On Your Honor

*Best Wishes to Friend Lucy
Robert M. Calcutt*

He Dedicates His Life . . .

to principle, to honor, to justice for the good of one and all. You, Mr. Robert Calvert, have dedicated your life to the younger people, striving to mold, guide and lead them towards higher goals and a greater understanding and appreciation of life now and to come.

So with great humility and deep appreciation we dedicate this 1964 edition, and the last edition of the PIONEER, to you.

Superintendent

Congratulations, "Class of 1963" I bequeath you these words and thoughts; application and natural ability. Without both of these, it is impossible to attain success; and when they are both united, the highest eminence is reached. A moderate intellect, combined with application, succeeds better than mere genius. Work is the coin that purchases a reputation and that which costs us little is of little value.

Sincerely,

Bernard D. Hughes, Superintendent
